Welcome...

Hello and welcome to Derby Day at Memorial Park.

Not only do we have our 1st and 2nd teams taking on neighbours and local rivals Lower Hutt City, but we also have three inter club derby games taking place. Bragging rights are at stake so sit back and enjoy the day and to top things off, we have the traditional Dave Agent Memorial Darts night later this evening. Welcome to the Lower Hutt City teams, their coaches, management and supporters. Regardless of league positions, it’s always a tight, tense match wherever we meet.

We’ve had mixed results to date for our Grant Plumbing 1st and 2nd teams and there is still plenty of hard work to do if we want to compete (and beat) the top teams on a more regular basis. Without stating the obvious, converting more chances is a must but defence is often more important. Just ask Chelsea. Lower Hutt will have two very well drilled sides today so we’ll need to be focused and very disciplined to get positive results.

The club is ticking over nicely at the moment and results so far for many of our other teams have been very pleasing. Let’s set a challenge to have at least two league titles and four promoted teams by the end of the season - then bragging rights can really be claimed come prize giving time! There’s a challenge for you all.

Good luck to all Petone teams this weekend. Remember play hard but play fair and enjoy the darts tonight!

This week we catch up with Steve McCann. As you will see when you look up at our Honours Board in the clubrooms, Steve is someone who played for our First team 190 times, impressive you will agree. He scored just the one goal over 13 seasons - he was right-back so don’t be too harsh! Steve would have easily made over 200 appearances if it weren’t for injuries curtailing his career. He was part of the great Petone side that last won the Central League in 1990 playing alongside fellow legends Greg Revell, Paul Baker and Andy Badrick. Steve also went on to coach several youth sides at Petone and, according to Andy Barron, was famous for wearing a Blue Umbro jumpsuit. Let’s check in with Steve and see how it’s going...

How long did you play/were you involved with the Club?

Started as a 5 year old and continued through to 30 something.

Favourite memories of Petone Football Club?

Sunday guitar sessions with the Pickerings!

Which players stood out during your time here?

Eddie Phelan, Grant Turner, Mark Wroe.

Where do you currently live and what are you doing?

Living in Sydney, working in insurance for the last 9 years at IAG.

What is your involvement in football today?

Strictly from the couch!

What was your career highlight?

Winning the Junior National Cup, we were never favourites!

Any regrets?

Probably falling just short of 200 first team appearances, and getting sent off in my 100th game (that was Rudi’s fault!)

Who was your footballing idol when you were growing up?

Johan Cruyff.

Introducing...
- Leftover Stew

The Leftover Stew team and name came about from the combination of two teams. These being the Stu’s and the Mother Truckers, and at first were known as Stu’s Mum, playing in a number of the Capital Football grades. Then after a few years, when a number of the team had had their 40th birthdays, the realisation of chasing around 20 year olds on a cold and wet Saturday as a Wellington Southerly buffeted us around was no longer any fun, and a change was needed. We then made the hard, but right, decision to progress to the heights of playing Masters football. At this time another name change was required, and Leftover Stew was born.

We started in Masters 5 four years ago, winning the league in a close battle with a Western Suburbs team that would follow us for the next few years as we progressed into Masters 3, where so far this season we are running a respectable 2nd. And we also still remain the current holders of the Masters Cup, which is played out every year against our other great rivals, The Petone Mighty Masters. The team was also the inaugural winners of the Armani Cup.

The team is losing 2 great team players this year in Steve ‘redemption’ Stuart - who is the original Stu and displays the true meaning of team spirit....dedicated, flexible to play in any position and an all-round great guy. And Shane Dickson, who in addition to being our ever reliable manager, is a rock in the central midfield. Shane always, without exception, gives 100% and during the game is not backwards in coming forwards with positive self-affirming messages of encouragement. Both will be sorely missed if for no other reason than how they express their love and affection of others after a few beers...

The team is full of characters, Richy Wade, who thrives on abusive comments directed at him from friends or foe; Steve Stuart, who plays striker, whether he is playing there or in goal; Mikey, who just loves taking the Michael; Wheels and Jackson, who are just rock solid every time; Marty the Dwarf, who rises like a salmon; Snoopy, who scores goals in his sleep; Drew, who is always good for a joke or two; Rigga, our smiling assassin from Zimbabwe; and the ever reliable Sanjay in goal - There is only one F^&*&#g Sanjay... to name but a few of the men that make up this team....

The Leftover Stew players love to win, but also love to enjoy a beer after a hard game of football, happy in the knowledge that our legs still work and sharing a bit of banter from the game. And this year we have a 62 year old player in our mix, so those of us in our 40’s thinking we were old enough to retire, CAN’T....

Martin Tonks,
Petone Leftover Stew

I’m having a real battle trying to pick a winner/financial investment for the World Cup in Brazil guys. And this is from the guy Rob Houghton refers to often as “The Wolf of Jackson Street”. Yes, as Rob will tell you, I know how to invest wisely. I was behind putting that water tap thingee down Buick Street where you constantly see people turning up with 40 gallon drums/old Mountain Dew bottles/cupped hands to collect water “straight from Heaven”. I also was behind the idea of putting a roof up over the car park at Pak n Save after woolly woofers like Dan Whittington and Michael Pickering complained about their fashionable Calvin Klein jerkins getting wet. I see potential and after a bit of mouth breathing I clinch it. But this World Cup? Far out man the W.O.J.S (you know what that stands for - don’t stare at it for ten minutes..) is deadset battling. So..we may just do a lucky dip, throwing the names over my backyard and waiting for the Cat to latch onto one, or go with the wise words of professional gamblers McLay and Dawson “just chuck everything you have on Brazil.” It’s very tricky.

Today we face local rivals Lower Hutt in the derby. Both teams not really hitting their straps at the mo and looking for something to get things running. My favourite moment from playing Lower Hutt is at the U19 tournament in Napier many years ago. We were playing them in group stage with the winner to progress to the Quarters. Nil all with about 15 minutes to go and Craig May strikes a gorgeous volley from outside the 18 yard box and it flies in. The feeling I had when that hit the net was one of the best I ever had in football... we all piled on each other and you could feel the emotions just buzzing through everyone, wicked. If you’re a Petone player and not up for a game against Lower Hutt, and vice versa, don’t bother. It’s awesome that there is a game with so much passion and pride that we can all look forward to.

Today is green bottle day so get a few down your gate and get your caregiver to pick you up later aye? Then later on it’s Darts Night and a chance to remember Dave Agent. I was lucky enough to be coached by Dave for a couple of seasons. I can still remember the fun training sessions and the friendships I made through his teams, a real cool guy.

Have fun everyone and C’mon the Blues!
